

---

Enter your Name:

---

Copy input and output devices separately and paste them in the following boxes:

Paste here

You have to paste the input and output devices separately here:

Input devices

output devices

Input devices are those with the help of which we can transfer data in computer.

Output devices are those with the help of which we get data after processing.